BURNING NEGROES CAUSE PANIC IN CROWDS ON BROADWAY

New York, Dec. 29.—Crowds in Broadway, near Sixty-seventh street, were thrown into a panic today when two human torches darted from a burning building occupied by the King Tire Company and ran screaming through the streets.

Firemen rolled the men—both negroes—in blankets and sent them to a hospital, where it was said that one of them, known at the store only as "James," probably would die. Eugene McCuen, the other, was seriously burned.

Traffic in Broadway was tied up for nearly an hour by the blaze, which damaged the basement and first floor of the tire company's building.
